

INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY REPORT 2021

EDITORIAL LETTER

Our dream is to make Tecnológico de Monterrey a completely international university. We work together to offer programs and create opportunities for our students at all three levels: senior high school, undergraduate, and graduate.

The next step is to strengthen our programs and initiatives in order to fully internationalize the curriculum of our undergraduate students.

Relying on our partner universities and consortia, I am sure that we will continue to offer excellent international experiences to make our students global citizens of the world.

NEW MODELS OF INTERNATIONALIZATION

1. GLOBAL SHARED LEARNING (GSL)

Tecnológico de Monterrey global vision aims to provide international academic experiences for all students. While the format GSL Classroom launched in 2018, it was during the global pandemic that the Vice Rectory for International Affairs expanded the model. By 2021, the rebranding of the entire initiative took place to encompass six formats and allow for more to integrate.

TYPES OF PROGRAMS

GSL CLASSROOM

GSL WEEK

GSL | U21 GLOBAL CITIZENS

GSL | U21 SUSTAINABLE MICRO-INTERNSHIPS

GSL | U21 CONNECTIONS

GSL | VIRTUAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMS (VEP)

Classroom - strategy that links a Tec course with one or more courses from an international partner university, through an international element, making use of technological tools to connect students, fostering collaboration, and promoting learning in multicultural environments.

Week - within the framework of SemanaTec, two types of experiences are offered: Diversity in a Globalized World and Gender, Sexuality, and Diversity. By taking advantage of the use of technological tools, students and teachers are linked to a multicultural, collaborative, and integrating knowledge environment. The success of this format lies in generating an internationalization experience "at home" with meaningful learning.

U21 Connections - a program with Universitas21 consortium where students from member universities find a pen pal or a friend online as well as the possibility of writing a blog entry for U21.

U21 Sustainable Micro-internships - virtual professional internship program focused on sustainable issues, organized by the Universitas21 consortium.

U21 Global Citizens - a program with Universitas21 consortium that offers a leadership certificate to professional students from universities that are part of the consortium.

Virtual Exchange Programs - courses are offered in English in virtual format for students of Tec de Monterrey's international partner universities.

The formats Global Shared Learning: Classroom and Global Shared Learning: Week are considered innovative in the academic community and the Vice Rectory for International Affairs was invited to deliver a presentation of these in 21 international forums.

Additionally, seven training workshops were held for international partner universities of GSL Classroom and five networking sessions between professors from Tecnológico de Monterrey and their peers at international partner universities participating in GSL Classroom.
